

REPUBLICAN MEETING.

Republicans held a meeting at the city hall last night.

REPUBLICAN MEETING.

The meeting was called to order by W. H. Adams, chairman of the city central committee, who said the first thing in order would be the election of a temporary chairman.

Mr. A. H. Tanner nominated Hon. D. P. Thompson, who was unanimously elected.

Mr. Thompson on taking his seat thanked the convention for the honor conferred upon him, and said the next thing in order would be the appointment of a committee on credentials.

At this point a committee of three was appointed, consisting of Mr. Adams, Mr. Thompson and Mr. Morgan.

Mr. Adams then reported the following persons as entitled to seats in the convention:

First Ward—E. Bebe, W. T. Hines, S. E. Schwan, Sam Woodard, A. H. Tanner, S. Collins, W. H. Adams, J. L. Ladd, C. G. Peterson, W. T. Hines, S. E. Schwan, Sam Woodard, A. H. Tanner, S. Collins, W. H. Adams, J. L. Ladd, C. G. Peterson.

COMING SPORTS.

The Basely-Stevenson Race—Dancing—Great Baseball Game—Wholesale.

The boat race between Sooley, the Portland oarsman, and Stevenson of San Francisco will be rowed next Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The course, which has not yet been divided, will be at some stretch on the Willamette between this city and the Columbia.

An excursion will be given down the river for the purpose of witnessing the race. The moon will be almost full on that evening.

Whichever boat wins will be a great triumph for the city. The race is a good one and the attendance large. It will advertise Portland considerably.

Both men are professional rowers. Stevenson has won many races near New Orleans. The climate is such that men can train here almost the entire year, and there is no reason why he should not win.

It is a pity that Stevenson has not been in training here. He would go down to the bridge any afternoon at 3 o'clock and see his boat.

He leaves the Willamette house for his afternoon work at about 3 o'clock. He is a tall, wiry fellow, and has been at hard work ever since he came here.

MCGINN AND EZRA HASKELL.

A Stout Prosecutor before the District Attorney and a Minister.

Wednesday night, at the corner of Third and Washington, there was an encounter between District Attorney McGinn and Rev. E. Haskell, growing out of the charges made by Haskell against McGinn in the address delivered at the funeral of Van Rosten.

Referring not to give an explanation of the charges, but to give an explanation of the charges, McGinn said that he was not present at the funeral of Van Rosten.

But Haskell has caused the arrest of McGinn in the police court on a charge of assault and battery, and it is now ascertained that there were witnesses of the affair, whose statements can be depended on as entirely impartial and correct.

These witnesses are Messrs. H. Y. Thompson and B. L. McKee. The following is Mr. Thompson's statement:

As I came down street in the evening I met at Third and Washington, Mr. R. L. McKee and Henry McGinn, who were talking together. I stopped to exchange salutations.

Then the two men began talking of Haskell's speech, as McGinn, looking around, said: "Here he comes now."

"That's Haskell," I then put my hand on McGinn's shoulder and said: "Henry, don't do any foolish thing now."

Then he said he meant to tell Haskell what he thought of him, and turning round, said: "Mr. Haskell, you told a damned dirty lie about me the other night."

"That's right," Haskell said, "you can't use the liberty of my office in your own personal defense, but I'll spit in your face," and followed this with a spit.

McGinn then said: "Haskell, you are a damned liar, and I'll spit in your face," and followed this with a spit.

McGinn then said: "Haskell, you are a damned liar, and I'll spit in your face," and followed this with a spit.

DE LEBESSE'S PANAMA CANAL.

A Man Just from "the Front" Brings Discouraging Reports of Progress.

Mr. J. P. Hill, of Gilroy, California, is the first man to go to the Panama canal, dredgers put to work on the Panama canal.

The man, who says that work is still progressing, between 10,000 and 12,000 men being employed. When he left there boats drawing between nine and fifteen feet could run up the canal to Gatun, seven and a half miles from Colon.

Half the work is done by manual labor. There remains to be done twenty-one and a half miles to connect the Atlantic and Pacific. The canal is 110 feet wide and twenty-nine feet deep.

Mr. Hill thinks the canal will never be finished by the French company, under De Lesseps. The company, he says, does not seem to know what it wants, and countermands orders as fast as it issues them.

Part of the work already done to make the entrance a tide-level canal, being pulled down, and preparations are being made to transform it into a lock canal.

The aqueduct at Las Cascadas, which cost thousands of dollars to build, is being pulled down.

Much valuable machinery is being going to waste. Mr. Hill saw some on the ground where it was deposited several years ago. Much trouble is expected at Colon, where it will be necessary to dig down 250 feet three inches to reach the bed of the canal.

Chagres river is another place where great difficulty will be encountered, as the canal will have to cross it. At San Pablo in 1878 the river rose fifty feet and landed cows in the trees, and if the performance is repeated there will be but little left of the canal.

Mr. Hill says that the enormous death rate reported among employees on the canal is not overestimated. Up to a year ago the death rate was about one in every ten.

Most of the deaths were due to malaria, which is now being combated by the use of quinine.

Millions of money is being squandered on account of delinquent machinery. Mr. Hill says the money that is being spent right along is so great that the receipts for years to come will only pay a fraction of the interest on indebtedness.

BLAINE IN THE FIELD.

His Friends Apparently Ignore the Two Letters, and Are Working Up a Stampede.

A Good Deal of Blaine and Hot Blood Already Striked Up—Meeting of the National Committee—Notes.

CHICAGO, June 15.—The probability that John M. Thurston of Nebraska would be made temporary chairman of the convention and that the delegates would be admitted to the floor, and that neither be entitled to vote until the right to the seats had been determined by the convention.

There were no contests in the first and fourth districts of Virginia. In the matter of the contested seats in the second, third, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth Virginia districts, the committee recommended that both a resolution be adopted to seats without votes, until the convention should determine the right of the matter.

In regard to the delegates at large from Virginia, the committee voted a resolution that the delegates headed by Senator Mahone be placed on the roll and admitted as delegates, and that the opposing delegation, headed by J. D. Groner, be admitted to seats as ex-tentants.

The Virginia contests at once became a matter of vigorous discussion. Lynch, colored member from Mississippi, in a long speech, and a long tirade, in support of the resolution, and a long tirade, in support of the resolution, and a long tirade, in support of the resolution.

At Gen. Harrison's headquarters to-day it was emphatically decided that there had been any conference between the friends of Harrison and Gresham. John C. Sew said: "No conference was held, and none was sought for by the friends of either candidate. There is nothing to confer about. We are making no fight on Gresham, and so far as we know, his friends are making no fight on Harrison. The business of the Indiana delegation is to carry out the instructions of the republican state convention, and do what we can to secure the victory of Harrison."

The impression that Indiana has two candidates is not correct. Gresham doubtless has many friends among the republican press in Indiana, and among the delegates pressed at the county and state conventions for Harrison, and our instructions are for Harrison, and our instructions are for Harrison, and our instructions are for Harrison.

At Gen. Harrison's headquarters at War. Chicago, June 15.—This afternoon in the hotel lobby there was a hand-to-hand contest between the Harrison and Gresham men. Starting in with simple comparisons of their candidates, the discussion passed from explanation to argument, the Gresham men claiming that Harrison could carry Indiana at all Gresham could carry it by 50,000.

The Indiana men belled over at the suggestion that it was passing reasonable bounds for Illinois to attempt to foist upon them a man they did not want. It was insufferable presumption for Blaine to set himself up to say that Indiana had made a mistake in instructing for Harrison. Bad blood is being engendered on both sides, and comment on the outside is to the effect that the two factions will destroy themselves.

AS APPROPRIATE OPENING. CHICAGO, June 15.—It has been decided that the convention should be opened by singing the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," to the tune of "John Brown's Body." This patriotic hymn, the Gresham men (Harrison) and the Harrison men (Gresham) will be asked, and the whole convention will join in the chorus.

UNDESIRABLE LETTERS. But the General's Drift Seems to be Toward Blaine. CHICAGO, June 15.—Hon. T. C. Platt, of New York, arrived to-night. He was called upon by a representative of the associated press, with a view of obtaining the temper of the New York delegation. A number of Platt said he had no information for the public, and he meant thereby that nothing whatever concerning his delegation should be made public.

"Is your delegation practically united?" asked the reporter. "Yes," said Mr. Platt. "I think so. The four delegates of my party will not vote for Blaine, and if they are unanimous I have no doubt the entire delegation will join them."

"How many delegates has Depew now, do you think?" was asked. "I have no knowledge," was the answer; "possibly all of them. I think he can have a majority if he will accept the nomination." The reporter then turned his attention to William Walter Phelps of New Jersey. Mr. Phelps believed the general situation was extremely complicated, and regretted that he could throw no light upon it.

Delegate S. A. Phillips, from Kansas (Gresham's district), said: "You may say, emphatically, that Depew will have sixty of our seventy-two votes. But Depew is not a candidate, our choice will be for the man who can win."

A HURRAH FOR BLAINE.

The Coast Delegation Repeating the Thurman Trick.

SOLID FOR THE MAN FROM MAINE.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, June 15.—The train bearing the Pacific coast delegation, representing thirty delegates, arrived here at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The local committee of reception, which was on hand at once caught the sentiment of the coasters by flouting an American flag with a portrait of Blaine pinned over the field of stars, and there was a general cheering about this banner.

"We are all for Blaine," was the general cry, and one of the delegates added: "Yes, it's Blaine or bust." The delegates indicated that at any rate the Pacific coast delegation proposed to make this enthusiastic Blaine boast as nearly literally true as possible.

There is a disposition on the part of the delegates to hold basic and an expression of opinion as to the second choice, in case Blaine is out of the question. Gresham's friends claim to have made quite an impression on the delegates, and that M. D. Tuley, of Nevada, one of the delegates, who is not himself especially a Gresham man, says Gresham might probably get twelve or sixteen delegates from the coast, but this view is not encouraged by a number of leading delegates, such as M. Gates, one of the delegates at large, who says unless the question of protection is considered, and a strong pro-temperance nomination, the Pacific coast will be in danger and that the man who has a talent of free trade can carry the Pacific coast.

"But," says Mr. Gates, "we are fighting no man, and are for the best of the country. We will give whoever is named our support. As we stand now we are all for Blaine, and we think he can and will be nominated, and we want Blaine for temporary or permanent chairman." The delegates have received information from Chicago, since they have started from home, that there is a movement to concede the temporary or permanent chairmanship to the Pacific coast, and have telegraphed to those who have sent out this word to hold on to that proposition, but to present no name but Blaine.

The delegation will march from the depot to headquarters in Chicago in a procession, headed by a six-day banner, four feet wide, and five and a half feet long, inscribed in large gold letters: "Blaine and Protection."

Colorado will act with the coast regarding the selection of Blaine for temporary or permanent chairman. The fact has been telegraphed Chairman Jones that the Colorado delegation is not to vote for Sherman under any circumstances, and Colorado has agreed to stand by the Pacific on this point also.

A TALK WITH DR. YETTER. M. H. de Young, of San Francisco, in conversation with a local newspaper representative, said: "The California delegates, with delegates from territories representing the Pacific coast, had a conference on the train, at which the delegates decided to be united at the convention, and vote not as a unit upon all questions which the civil service board has decided against. The delegates from Colorado were received while we were in Denver that they would stand with us and ratify what was done at the convention. It was agreed that an effort should be made in the interests of Blaine's nomination, and that we should make a special fight to that end. It was agreed that Blaine's nomination should become an impossibility, that the Pacific coast delegation should act as a body, and decide upon the claims of other candidates. The merits of the claims of other candidates were not formally considered."

The California delegation, in addition, decided to adopt, as a counter emblem to the Louisiana, a simple American flag, with a California bear inscribed upon it. The delegation will distribute thousands of these in the convention. The delegation has adopted white Blaine hats.

QUESTIONS OF OPPOSITION TO BLAINE. A member of the California delegation, who did not wish his name used, called the delegates from the coast will demand a silver plank in the platform, and that the tariff plank shall speak in no uncertain way for protection. He also said that the Blaine sentiment has fully caught the delegates, still there is an undercurrent of feeling among many conservatives that Blaine's nomination would be unwelcome to the Pacific coast; and it was informally decided not to support Sherman under any circumstances. The merits of the claims of other candidates were not formally considered.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

Many Members Absent in Attendance at the Chicago Convention.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—There were many vacant seats on the republican side of the house today. It is estimated that nearly eighty representatives have gone to Chicago. The attendance on the democratic side was not much better, and practically business could not be transacted. It is estimated that no member having it in his power to suspend proceedings by making a point of no quorum. Such incidents happened at the very outset of the session, and the speaker, after the defect of his motion to suspend the army appropriation bill, made a point. For an hour he resisted the appeals of nearly all members to suspend the session, and finally yielded to the speaker's persistent intimation that nothing could be done if he persisted.

The house then proceeded under the regular order, being business on the private calendar. After passing several bills, the house took recess until 8 P. M., when private pension bills were considered. Before passing a resolution of profound sympathy with the German nation in the death of Emperor Frederick was unanimously adopted.

A VOLUNTEER DEMOCRAT. A Designated Democrat Before the Hale Convention. WASHINGTON, June 15.—John O. Spelman was a volunteer witness before the Hale civil service committee this morning. Witnesses in a democratic lawyer, and delegate to the convention which was organized at Chicago in 1881. He sought an appointment as messenger in the New York custom house, and while so employed wrote letters to the New Hampshire paper, criticising Cleveland's tariff message as a free trade document. He was called to account therefor by Collector Mayson and Mr. Alason, clerk of the civil service board, who thought this interference with his rights as a citizen, and resigned and went back to Vermont, and became a republican. He carried over a general impression that all the officials of the custom house in New York were engaged in active politics, having met them at all political meetings of any consequence in New York city during his term of office.

NEW YORK NOTES. New York, June 15.—The jury in the noted Disraeli case came into court this evening, and reported that they were unable to agree, and were locked up for the night. It is said they stood eleven for conviction and one for acquittal. Jay Gould arrived to-day on a special train at the Pennsylvania depot from the West. He was looking well.

Twenty-Four Cars Burned. PHILADELPHIA, June 15.—While switching cars on the Pennsylvania road, this afternoon the rear car of a train loaded with oil bumped into two others cars loaded with kerosene. The oil in the tank took fire, and twenty-four cars were burned. Loss, $100,000.

A Wheat Field Burned. PHILADELPHIA, June 15.—From the guns of a shooting party destroyed 100 acres of wheat, averaging twenty-five bushels to the acre, on the ranch of John Boggs, this afternoon.

AND ABOUT PORTLAND

WAVE OF VIOLENCE—The streets of the city were filled with a wave of violence, as the crowd of thousands of people gathered for the parade. The crowd was so large that it filled the streets from one end to the other, and the police were unable to keep it under control. The result was a series of collisions and a general state of confusion. The parade itself was a success, but the aftermath was a different story. The streets were littered with debris, and the damage to property was considerable. The police were busy for days cleaning up the mess.

THE FOURTH—The fourth of the series of events was held last evening. It was a very successful one, and the crowd was even larger than the previous ones. The parade was well organized, and the floats were beautiful. The music was loud and clear, and the overall atmosphere was one of joy and celebration. The event was a great success, and it was a pleasure to see so many people out and about the city.

THE FIFTH—The fifth of the series of events was held last evening. It was a very successful one, and the crowd was even larger than the previous ones. The parade was well organized, and the floats were beautiful. The music was loud and clear, and the overall atmosphere was one of joy and celebration. The event was a great success, and it was a pleasure to see so many people out and about the city.

THE SIXTH—The sixth of the series of events was held last evening. It was a very successful one, and the crowd was even larger than the previous ones. The parade was well organized, and the floats were beautiful. The music was loud and clear, and the overall atmosphere was one of joy and celebration. The event was a great success, and it was a pleasure to see so many people out and about the city.

THE SEVENTH—The seventh of the series of events was held last evening. It was a very successful one, and the crowd was even larger than the previous ones. The parade was well organized, and the floats were beautiful. The music was loud and clear, and the overall atmosphere was one of joy and celebration. The event was a great success, and it was a pleasure to see so many people out and about the city.

THE EIGHTH—The eighth of the series of events was held last evening. It was a very successful one, and the crowd was even larger than the previous ones. The parade was well organized, and the floats were beautiful. The music was loud and clear, and the overall atmosphere was one of joy and celebration. The event was a great success, and it was a pleasure to see so many people out and about the city.

THE NINTH—The ninth of the series of events was held last evening. It was a very successful one, and the crowd was even larger than the previous ones. The parade was well organized, and the floats were beautiful. The music was loud and clear, and the overall atmosphere was one of joy and celebration. The event was a great success, and it was a pleasure to see so many people out and about the city.

THE TENTH—The tenth of the series of events was held last evening. It was a very successful one, and the crowd was even larger than the previous ones. The parade was well organized, and the floats were beautiful. The music was loud and clear, and the overall atmosphere was one of joy and celebration. The event was a great success, and it was a pleasure to see so many people out and about the city.

THE ELEVENTH—The eleventh of the series of events was held last evening. It was a very successful one, and the crowd was even larger than the previous ones. The parade was well organized, and the floats were beautiful. The music was loud and clear, and the overall atmosphere was one of joy and celebration. The event was a great success, and it was a pleasure to see so many people out and about the city.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES.

City Convention to be Held To-day—Who will be Nominated?

The democrats held primaries last evening to elect delegates to their city convention, which will meet in the courthouse at 2 P. M. to-day. A very quiet evening was had, there being no opposition in the field.

In the first ward the Gallagher ticket had first sway. An opposition ticket was expected, but it did not show up. R. Lemmon, standing delegate, said that a ticket favoring either M. or P. Zander for councilman would doubtless be brought forth. It failed to materialize. The delegates are the following: Mr. M. Koshland, R. Lemmon, Charles De France, Joe Bergman, George L. Curry, Charles Foster, John E. Murphy, J. Kelly, H. Winterholter.

In the second ward 100 votes were cast and the following delegates were elected: Dr. Henry Hicks, J. C. Walsh, E. Meyer, J. Davis, Wm. Blodgett, C. E. Stron, F. Jones, Geo. Webster.

A reporter who was sent up to attend the primary in the Third ward and when near the corner of Third and Jefferson dropped in at a cigar store and inquired of the fellow countryman of Homer who kept the place, how the democrats were turning out to vote.

"Democracy," said he, "I have not seen any. I heard they had left the country."

Listening to his humorous reply, "Well, I'm sure," the reporter strode around to the rear of Duffy's butcher shop, where he found several of the fathers of the local democracy looking at it as they had just emerged from the avalanche which had buried them on the fifth. They had a pile of tickets, but there was no one around except the fellow countryman, on the ticket. "There are ten votes in," said Ed Morrill, "and the ticket is elected now. There is no other ticket here."

"Yes," said another, "the ticket is elected, unless they get up an opposition." "If they do," said a third, "we will close the polls."

As the reporter walked away, Morrill said, "The democrats were dead, but they will find out that we are mighty lively corpses."

The ticket was as follows: Peter Taylor, A. T. Smith, R. Mendelsham, J. Duffy, Ed Morrill, Thos. Hall, G. Chapman. It was elected by a score of 41 to nothing.

What the convention will do to-day beyond selecting a city committee and nominating delegates for councilman from the first ward is not known. Mr. Gallagher believes that the "Whites" the only non-nominate delegates from the third and third ward seem to have no choice for councilman. In fact they are not certain whether any one will be nominated. As for mayor and police commissioner, they are but little talked of. Charles L. Laid and Charles De France are remotely mentioned for mayor. It is understood that the first ward delegation will support Mr. De France.
